Many thanks for sending me the outline of the project dealing with Russian views on international law and the book of Materials put out by Rashba.

I think you may very well have a worthwhile project and an undertaking to get it reviewed by the appropriate experts within this Agency and other intelligence agencies of the government. We will let you have our reactions at the earliest opportunity though, as you doubtless know, such review is rather time consuming.

It was good to see you. I hope you will drop in on me whenever you come to town.

Sincerely, /s/ Bob
